TDS IS A THING / EPSTEIN IS BACK / TUCKER IS A BUSY MAN

Original Air Date: 11.15.25

Segment.01 Hello. I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor of the Lighthouse Baptist Church in Santa Maria, CA, and your brain masseur. Get ready for your brain massage.

So, it's official, unofficially: TDS is a thing! I'm going to explain Trump Derangement Syndrome!

The Epstein files are baaaacck!

Trump is naming Soros and Reid Hoffman as possible suspects in funding Antifa. Marco Rubio just named four Antifa groups as Foreign Terrorist organizations, and included them on the Administration's list of Specially Designated Global Terrorists.

Swalwell has been referred to the DOJ for charges: it's mortgage fraud, again. Maybe he and Leticia can share a cell? No, wait, I don't think either of these is willing to swap out their pronouns.

A Clinton-appointed federal judge hinted she might dismiss the charges against James Comey and Leticia James on a technicality.<sup>1</sup>

Michigan Patriots are massing in Michigan! They feel it's time to let the world know that there are America-loving patriots in Michigan who are willing to stand up for their homeland and resist Islamization.<sup>2</sup>

Tucker is releasing evidence he claims proves the FBI is lying about the Butler assassination attempt on President Trump.<sup>3</sup> Hmmm!

It's time for your brain massage!

[TRUTH]

So, it's official, unofficially: TDS is a thing! A practicing clinical psychologist gave his assessment of the phenomenon as he experiences it in his practice. He told Harris Faulkner that TDS is something he is treating in his practice. Some people are so obsessed with their hatred of Trump that they can't sleep. Their obsession actively interferes with their personal and professional lives. That's a psychosis—and although it has not been officially registered as such, psychologists and psychiatrists are treating patients who manifest a shared set of symptoms, and not a few therapists are calling it TDS — Trump Derangement Syndrome.

Well, we all knew that! Most of what we call intelligence is rational thought grounded in common sense, and anyone watching the left raging about Trump can see the irrational nonsense displayed by these Trump haters. And I always want to offer a correction here. It's actually not about Trump, per sé. Remember, the Left was in love with Trump before he entered the race against Hillary, including Hillary, by the way! It isn't about Trump. So, what is it about? Let's look at it from a biblical perspective.

It's interesting to examine this in the light of Scripture. Here are the things that seem to trigger the Left most: he exposes their hypocrisy from a platform that shines a very bright light on it — we were calling the so-called Main Stream Media “fake news” for a long time, but when Trump started saying it, the phrase quickly became a national slogan. We watched as once arrogant, pompous “news icons” withered under the image of a public giant pointing his finger at a reporter and saying two words: Fake News, and sometimes three words, if you count a contraction as one word: “You're fake news.”

Second, Trump loves America as founded; he wears his patriotism on his sleeve. He is unashamedly, unabashedly pro-America. They're not! They are unabashedly anti-America as founded and openly declare their intention to “transform America” into something it never was, nor was ever intended to be. They are communists wearing the thin disguise of socialism, masquerading as for the poor when in fact, they want to eat the poor and devour them. Here is one example: during the recent Schumer Shutdown, Schumer made it clear he understands the pain his shutdown is causing to traditionally Democrat Party supporters, but he explained their pain and suffering is his leverage to force Republicans to their knees in submission to his Party's plan to provide health care for illegals. Schumer and his radical advisors use the pain and suffering of their own constituents to advance the Party's political interests. The Democrats use the poor. They advance policies that make them dependent on the government, then manipulate the government to bring pain into their lives, and attempt to blame the Republicans for it, hoping to make the Republicans cave to their unreasonable and wicked demands. It failed, but only because of Trump's leadership and political strength.

The shutdown is over—Trump signed the Bill to reopen the government.<sup>4</sup> No one should forget what Schumer did to the American people—especially what he did to the poor whose pain he intended to “leverage” for his political benefit. His effort to “save” his seat blew it up! But don't let AOC skate into his office—she voted against reopening the government in the House repeatedly. Maybe by the time she runs again, Mamdani will have been exposed as the wolf he is, and New Yorkers will finally wake up and realize they have not been represented well by Schumer or AOC, and what they need is Giuliani revisited!

Brain Massage Show: Taking the sword of the Spirit into battle against Satan's lies.

So, TDS arises from 1. Trump's defection from the Democrat Party, 2. His willingness to expose the hypocrisy and evil of the Democrat Party, and especially his effectiveness at calling them out and putting the light of truth on them, 3. His open love for America and Americans and commitment to the well-being of all Americans, and 4. His open acknowledgement of Christ, from "We can say 'Merry Christmas' again," to "Christ is King" to being the only, and I mean the only President in my memory to bring national and International attention "Christ-o-cide" — what else can you call it, Jesus told Paul his persecution of Christians was persecution directed at Him, Personally.

Trump is the only President I remember who stood up for the persecuted Christians here and around the world—my audience probably knows this, but most Americans are not aware that it is Christians who are the number one most hated and persecuted people in the world, and that's been going on for a very long time.

"They" hate him to the point of a distraction that is so serious, it is debilitating; many are unable to function properly. The "kings of the earth" (rulers) rage, some in secret, and seek to bring him down. Others openly rail against him. They've tried to destroy him politically, they've tried to kill him — but he survives. How? It's supernatural. Trump is not supernatural! But it's Christ Who protects him.

I can't give this topic any more time, so here it is. You might have heard me explain this more than once—it's important to understand that the only answer to this craziness is a spiritual one.

Jesus Christ is KING, and those who refuse to acknowledge that are, well, just strange! I mean, why not? What problem do they have with Christ? If you say, well, so many Christians are hypocrites. Right! So you throw in with the most deceitful, lying, hypocritical, and evil political Party to exist since the Pharisees and Sadducees of Jesus' day conspired to crucify Him.

The core principle of the Left today is that protecting Democracy means protecting the Democrat Party at all costs—even at the cost of democracy! For the Left, the principle of "the consent of the governed" —the ideal of democracy— is irrelevant. Their idea of democracy is the supremacy of the Democratic Party, and that Party is opposed to any actions of the PEOPLE that oppose their rule.

Take Proposition 50 as an example. Democratic Party Governor Newsom, threatened by the shift toward Republicans in the 2024 Presidential election, and afraid CA was turning Red, concocted a scheme to secure one-party rule in California—

CA voted, statewide, to take districting away from politicians and turn it over to the citizens. We got tired of these rascals doing what's called gerrymandering. Gerrymandering is a device that allows a ruling party to draw electoral district boundaries to give one political party (or group) an unfair advantage in elections. Instead of voters choosing their representatives, the politicians choose their voters—and draw the boundaries to ensure the opposing Party has no representation in government.

CA voters got tired of this, and voted to take districting away from politicians and make an independent private citizen thing—and viola, all of a sudden we discovered there are more Republicans in CA than anybody knew. When the maps are drawn honestly, and not manipulated to favor one Party, you get a more honest view of the California voter. The system we have used isn't perfect, and there is built-in voter fraud in two key areas: the refusal to make voter ID the law in our state and the use of universal mail-in voting. Voter ID is a no-brainer, and the only people who oppose it are Democrats who claim it will disenfranchise their voting base. Really? Who is their voting base? People too ignorant to obtain an ID? How many votes would that cost them, and why is it that only Democrats are too stupid to know how to obtain proper documentation of their identity? Well, the fact is they aren't.

So that argument is as ridiculous as the one that says men can become pregnant. No one believes biological males can become pregnant, but promoting that nonsense supports an agenda. The same thing is true about the argument that Democrats automatically lose votes if an ID is required because Democrats have some special incapacity to obtain identification. The reason voter ID interferes with Democrats in elections is that it curbs voter fraud.

You see, they want men to be accepted as women based on their "affirmation," the same way they want illegals to be able to vote as citizens by mere "affirmation." A man walks into a women's restroom, is approached, and declares he is a woman, and everyone is supposed to shrug and look the other way. An illegal votes, and no one says anything because he checked a box that "affirmed" he is a citizen. And many of these checked the box because someone told them to, and did not even know what they were checking. It's a fact that illegals are voting in our CA elections—and the Trump administration is going to look into this.

By the way, our DOJ has joined the lawsuit challenging Proposition 50.<sup>5</sup> The district map proposed by Gavin Newsom and his Party assumes to create an advantage in the 2026 election by creating Hispanic-dominated districts. Why they assume this automatically means they'll vote Democrat is a matter for another discussion—one that involves why the Catholic Church, at least in CA, presents a strong pro-life stance but consistently supports candidates like Pelosi and Newsom — but the Hispanics are becoming increasingly agitated with the Dems, and the Dems know it. The Devil-Dems are counting on illegal immigrants to carry them, and that's the Hispanic population they are targeting. It's almost all they have left.

Nevertheless, creating a district map that is prominently guided by race considerations is against the Law. So they decided that rather than go after this on an election fraud argument, they would use the law that prohibits drawing district lines along racial lines—so, we'll see how it goes. Let's pray this devilish device will fail, and Proposition 50 will be dismissed as illegal according to CA Law, as well as Unconstitutional, because it violates the 14th Amendment.

Brain Massage Show: Taking the sword of the Spirit into battle against Satan's lies.

Anyway, back to TDS, it reminds me of a similar derangement that afflicted the rulers of the Jews in Jesus' day. In fact, although the person is very different, in case you need me to say it, because you are so totally deranged, you think maybe someone out there actually believes anyone confuses Trump with Jesus —and, on that note, I get tired of having to say, well, you know Trump isn't perfect. No one ever said he was! No one! Not even Trump. He has never said what John Lennon said, that he was more popular than Christ—but every time someone quotes Lennon there is never the compulsion to remind everyone that Lennon isn't Jesus, you know!

But the parallels between the spirit that moved the crowd to crucify Jesus and the spirit that animates those who suffer TDS are eerily similar! Irrational hatred of someone whose massive popularity threatens the interests of one political/religious party.

Make no mistake about the religious nature of the Democrat Party today. It operates like the Catholics did during the Middle Ages, including an inquisition-style oppressive control over its members: severe punishment for going against the "leaders," and ironclad control of dissent. Include the absurd doctrines that everyone is required to endorse—a man who calls himself Christ in Christ's stead, or Head of the Jesus' Church,<sup>6</sup> is even more absurd than saying a man can become a woman by merely declaring it to be so— the Church has ONE HEAD, and that is CHRIST — that's as axiomatically true as the fact that males and females are chromosomally differentiated: males are XY and females are XX. Period!

Anyway, the spirit that was operating in the hearts and minds of the political/religious party that crucified Jesus is the same one creating TDS. The point I'm making is that the spirit operating in the crowd that irrationally hated Jesus is the exact same spirit operating in the crowd that hates Trump. While on the human level, that spirit stirs up the same natural evil in the hearts of men, especially envy, mixed with fear of losing their place and station in life, the deeper loathing against him comes from their love of darkness rather than light, their loathing of the Spirit of Jesus Christ — at the bottom of it all is the old struggle between light and darkness. Trump is dragging evil into the light, and like Dracula, two things are true of these people: one, they cannot see themselves, like Dracula cannot see his own reflection in a mirror, and they catch fire when exposed to LIGHT.

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere's lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march—an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

Trump gave them a chance to shut up—he roped the dopes again! Some selected emails culled from Epstein's files and leaked to implicate Trump as having some secret dealings with Epstein and Maxwell. I've read them, at least the excerpts printed in a Reuters article.<sup>7</sup> No email communications from Trump to Epstein or Maxwell, no indication of criminal activity — but the innuendo is intentional. Innuendo is a weird word, huh. In-nu-en-do. It's taken directly from the Latin verb meaning to nod towards, or make a hint concerning someone or something without stating it plainly, or at all. In law, it was used to identify the person of a pronoun. Later, it came to be used to refer to a gesture or statement intended to implicate someone in wrongdoing.

By the way, CIA operations often use innuendo as a way to smear someone without an open accusation, to avoid recriminations for falsely accusing them.

Some think the leaked emails support a theory that Epstein was a CIA operative being used to bring Trump down.<sup>8</sup> It's already unraveling. For one thing, the name of the Epstein victim that is redacted, the one Epstein alleges Trump spent many hours with in his house, is Virginia Roberts, whose married name is Virginia Giuffre—she testified that Trump did nothing untoward to her — so it's another dud! It goes nowhere and proves nothing!

CNN tried their best to make the most of these Democratic leaked emails. Well, right now they are covering their tracks. They covered it extensively, always bringing forward the insinuation (innuendo) that Trump was knowledgeable of Epstein's crimes and of the "girls" he and Maxwell were trafficking. As the White House begins pushing back, CNN is folding up its tent and carrying away its soapbox. CNN issued a formal statement: "We wanna be clear. Trump didn't receive or send any messages," adding, "He has not been accused of any wrongdoing with Epstein or Maxwell."<sup>9</sup> Maybe someone called. from CBS and gave them some advice.

So, what's this about? They have no emails exchanged between Trump and Epstein, or with Maxwell, the only thing they found was an email from Epstein to Maxwell planting the innuendo that Trump spent many hours with Virginia Roberts in his home, but nothing else corroborates that. We all know what a liar and scoundrel Epstein is. We also know that it was not long after Trump became acquainted with Epstein that Trump barred him from Mar-A-Lago and once dismissed him from his ride, making him find his own way home! One of the proofs Trump knew about "the girls" was Trump telling Ghislaine to stop—stop what? Recruiting girls at his estate? Knowing about something is not the same as having sufficient proof to report a crime. In other words, Trump did take the action he could take and instructed her to knock off the smooshing with "the girls" and banned Epstein from Mar-A-Lago.

What about this lingering suspicion that Epstein was a CIA asset, or that he and Maxwell had connections with Mossad—Israel's counterpart to our CIA?

Former U.S. Attorney Alexander Acosta negotiated Epstein's 2008 plea deal. Reportedly, he was pressured to give Epstein special considerations. He told others questioning his actions that Epstein "belonged to intelligence" and said to "leave it alone."

What it means to "belong to intelligence" is pretty broad. No agency is identified in the comment, and no official capacity is indicated.

But, add this to the fact that Epstein had connections to High-Profile Intelligence Figures.

And the first one to step forward is Ghislaine Maxwell. Her father is Robert Maxwell, and he has been linked to Mossad. Evidence of this guy's relationship with Mossad and Israeli Intelligence is very strong. You can check it out here.<sup>10</sup> He was buried on the Mount of Olives with full Israeli State honors. This is Maxwell's daddy!

A former Israeli Prime Minister and defense minister, Ehud Barak, met with Epstein on multiple occasions.

Blackmail Operation Hypothesis

Epstein's properties were equipped with extensive surveillance (cameras and audio recording devices). He was either paranoid or weird about knowing what anyone on his property was saying and doing, because this went beyond wanting to keep tabs on unwanted visitors and extended to keeping tabs on invited guests. He might have used compromising material to blackmail powerful individuals.

It's called the "honey-trap blackmail" model, and is similar to what intelligence agencies (including Mossad) have allegedly done. Some suggest intelligence services would see Epstein as a valuable asset to be used for precisely this kind of leverage over powerful political or business personalities.

Epstein authored or co-authored work that addressed sensitive intelligence topics, particularly CIA/FBI operations.

For instance, in Of Moles and Molehunters, Epstein explored Soviet espionage, double agents, and disinformation. So, his interests went beyond an obsession with porn—yeah, that too!

Some argue that his deep engagement with espionage history suggests more than just a private fascination — that he may have had real intelligence ties. Anyway, check out this link to my ChatGPT quick research on all of this, including rebuttals of the claims.<sup>11</sup>

Trump is naming Soros and Reid Hoffman as possible suspects in funding Antifa—the anarchists trying to overthrow the government—the real insurrectionists, the ones Pelosi used to help agitate the J6 protestors to provide cover for their insurrection attempt in 2020. She is particularly sensitive to the question about why she refused Trump's offer of National Guard deployment to protect the Capitol. The presence of Antifa at the J6 protest should Marco Rubio just named four Antifa groups as Foreign Terrorist Organizations (FTO), and included them on the Administration's list of Specially Designated Global Terrorists. This throws the doors wide open to go after their funding sources. Hey, Soros: Knock, Knock! Whose there. Reid Hoffman with a question. Does Trump send drones after carriers transporting terrorist money?

Crime pays until it's time to pay! A famous sermon preached thousands of times by Robert Greene Lee (not the General) was titled "Payday Someday!" Well, "Someday" has come for some of these states that have been milking the SNAP system for hundreds of millions in fraud. DOGE has helped expose it.

In only 29 of the 50 states, we have discovered almost 200,000 dead people receiving SNAP benefits. Well, actually, it's living people using dead people's SSNs to file for and receive government assistance intended for living people. The only reason someone uses a dead man's SSN to apply for SNAP is if he is bilking the system. Some states are feverishly trying to stop the Federal government from having access to their records—what have they to hide? Why does a State not want this to be cleared up? Interesting! Are some political interests served by having these people on SNAP, using, illegally, by the way, using SSNs of deceased people? Perhaps this aligns with what they do on the voter rolls? Is some Democrat in there identifying unused SSNs to pass on to illegals? I don't know! But I do know that it's Payday Someday, and Someday's coming.

Swalwell has been referred to the DOJ for charges: it's mortgage fraud, again. Hey, Swalwell, to quote you: NO ONE IS ABOVE THE LAW. NO ONE IS ABOVE THE LAW, NO ONE IS ABOVE THE LAW. NO ONE IS ABOVE THE LAW.<sup>12</sup> Here is a good question for you, Eric: if you Democrats are so intent on people paying taxes, taxes, and more taxes — why do so many of you commit fraud in an effort to avoid paying taxes?<sup>13</sup>

Here is a summary of Tucker's report:<sup>18</sup>

“The FBI claimed Crooks was a “virtual ghost online with no presence at all.” when the transcript” [What “transcript”? Another article tells us Tucker has access to a “Detailed digital trail of violent threats, including calls for assassination and political violence.”<sup>19</sup>

So, back to the quote: the FBI claimed Cook was an online ghost but Tucker has uncovered a detailed digital trail of violent threats, and calls for assassinations and “alleges he was very active and had a “detailed digital trail” across more than a dozen accounts (YouTube, multiple emails, Snapchat, Venmo, PayPal, Zelle, Discord, Google Play, Quizlet, Chess.com, and Quora). This article includes Venmo, PayPal and Zelle — aren't those financial apps? None of these would be a place where anyone would post death threats, so why are they included? And the chess.com app too! Okay, anyway, this makes me wonder if listing YouTube means he has a video presence there, or did he watch his favorite Fox show on YouTube? The emails, and posts on Discord might help us, and I trust Tucker but this does look a little bit like packing—stuffing the box with some extraneous stuff to make it look like “a lot.”

I've got more work to do on this. I don't have time to sort it all out now. It's getting late, and I'm rolling along the Amtrak Surfrider rail. I'm going to try recording the show and maybe even post it from the train.

It's PAYDAY SOMEDAY and SOMEDAY is getting close.

The only hope Comey has is if a Clinton-appointed federal judge does what she hinted at doing and dismiss the charges against James Comey and Leticia James on a technicality.<sup>20</sup> I did not have time to look at what is the "technicality" but I do understand that it was likely set up by the Deep State hangers-on in the DOJ, slow-walking the indictment, trying to stall and when caught, they stymied movement jostling judges around to get this case in front of a Clintonista.

It turned out that the guy Pam or someone representing her gave the indictment proceeding to a man who was married to the daughter of a Comey godfather—and for those who take that very seriously, that's as close to a family tie you can get short of a biological connection. We will pray for justice to prevail over manufactured technicalities. These people who strain at gnats of technicalities to worm their way out from under the sword of justice are the same ones who choke down egregious abuses against the weightier matters of the law.<sup>21</sup>
