WHY DID TRUMP DECIDE HASAN'S EXECUTION WOULD NOT BE LIVE STREAMED? / IN DEPTH: THE DEATH OF ISLAM

Original Air Date: 10.17.26

Segment.01 Hello. I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor of the Lighthouse Baptist Church in Santa Maria, CA, and your brain masseur. Get ready for your brain massage.

[Over theme of the Jetsons]: Elon Musk introduces first fully produced flying cars, an announcement that the era of the Jetsons is upon us. It's all the rage, much to the confusion and consternation of AOC. [AOC -Musk is DUMB] AOC calling Musk dumb is sort of like a pigeon that poop-bombs a chess board bragging that he beat Magnus Carlsen—the world's highest rated chess grandmaster.¹

The Commander in Chief decides we won't livestream the execution of Nidal Hasan—the Fort Hood Muslim that murdered 14 precious lives: 12 soldiers, one civilian, and one of the soldiers was pregnant, making 14 lives taken by this fiend of hell. Why point out that he is Muslim? Because that was his defense for his actions!

Well, I came out pretty strong in favor of public execution, showed you in the Bible where God recommends it, so, what does the brain masseur think about this example of “Why would Trump say that!” To allay any fears, I think it reveals something about Trump that I've pointed out many times; something endearing!

Nidal was a Muslim, and felt compelled by his faith to kill American soldiers in order to protect Muslim soldiers against American soldiers in Afghanistan and Iraq. No, this is what he said, in court, in front of God and everybody. He declared that he believed if he disobeyed what he said was God's command that he kill American soldiers that he would die and go to hell. Well, I've got some news for you Mr. Hasan.

Hegseth announced he would livestream the execution, JD equivocated on whether this would happen, expressed his own disinterest in watching the event. Trump was all for it, at first, but something happened. He explained that there are a lot of good people who think it's in bad taste to make it a public thing, so, in deference to them, the POTUS conceded to their sensibilities — you know, being the dictator that he is, right? So, who are these people that object to the biblical model of public execution for capital crimes?

Cardinal Parolin serves the Vatican as Secretary of State, representing the Vatican to nations like Rubio represents America. He said he objected to executions being made a “spectacle.”

You watch it on TV routinely—I don’t know if the Cardinal does, but, you know what I mean. And the catharsis you feel, the satisfaction you feel when a really bad guy faces judgment for his evil — you want say good riddance. You want to say, it’s about time that guy faced justice for his evil — there is something in us that demands justice and for a capital crime, nothing can satisfy justice short of the judgment befitting the crime. Here is a little Bible for you.

I remember, back in the day, I would play BIBLE THUMP ALERT, BIBLE THUMP ALERT — when I was about to quote the Bible on Public Airwaves — haha! We’ve come a long way since those days of soft-oppression. Here is little Bible wisdom for you: “When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting” (Proverbs 11:10).

Why would Trump back off a public execution? Someone in his circle finds it objectionable, maybe it’s the VP, maybe he is being sensitive to a flood of letters from Catholics, and others, petitioning him to reconsider—maybe! But one thing it tells you is that Trump is not a tyrant, a dictator, someone who forces his will.

The sword of civil justice is appointed to execute wrath against evil doers (Romans 13:1-6) — and no one qualifies as an evil doer more than this character Nidal Hasan, who shouted Allahu Akbar as he murdered 14 innocent lives, when he deprived the wife of Micahael Grant Cahill, 62, of her husband of 37 years, leaving Joleen widowed, and his three children without their father.

Or when Hasan shot in cold blood Staff Sgt. Justin DeCrow, 32, leaving his wife Marikay widowed, and their 13-year-old daughter, Kyla; and depriving Justin's father of his son. His Father, Daniel DeCrow has spoken publicly mourning his son.

Or Pfc Kham Xiong, 23, married, and the father of three children, ages 4, 2, and ten months. His father grieves the loss of his son to this disciple of Aliwaki—famous for radicalizing Americans — and Nidal was a special trophy to that devil.

Or Specialist Jason Hunt, 22, a newlywed—married only two months before this fiend of hell widowed his wife, and bereaved his mother, Gale.

Captain John Gaffney, 56, married and the father of one son. Or Pvt. Fransheska Velez, 21, pregnant—whose concern was her baby as this idiot changed Allahu Akbar and shot her and her baby to death.

Major Libardo Careveo, 52, left his son, Eduardo to grieve the death of his father.

Lt. Col. Juanita Warman, 55, left two children and six grandchildren and a half-sister missing her at the table this coming Thanksgiving.

We do not know the extent of horror this man put upon so many—the entire nation was shocked.

The “spectacle” is only perverse to those who see it as a spectacle; when justice is executed openly against a man so vile as Hasan it satisfies a fundamental need to affirm the value of human life, elevates dignity of humanity over the beasts of the earth, it rejoices the soul to see right triumph over wrong, to witness good execute divinely appointed wrath against the evil—

Anyway, what I don't like about Trump's decision is that it accommodates the wrong people in our culture. Besides that, this was a military trial and I think military justice should be meted. At the very least, let it be public in this way, those who feel they have a right to see justice delivered upon this wicked man should be invited to be witness to his execution.

So, will it bring his victims back? No, and may I tell you that's a stupid question. In it lies the very heart of why a public execution is necessary. It puts on display the fact that what he did is irreversible. And it sends a loud cry to heaven, ONE I HOPE THOSE WHO WERE MURDERED CAN HEAR — YOUR LIVES MATTERED TO US—HOW MUCH COMES THE REPLY, THIS MUCH —

[SOUNDS OF A FIRING SQUAD —]

IT SENDS A LOUD STATEMENT FROM THE ENTIRE POPULACE OFFENDED BY THIS DEED: JUSTICE MATTERS TO US — HOW MUCH?

[SOUNDS OF A FIRING SQUAD —]

IT SENDS A CRY THAT BREAKS THE CLOUDS, HUMAN LIFE MATTERS THIS MUCH TO US — HOW MUCH COMES THE REPLY.

SOUNDS OF A FIRING SQUAD —]

FURTHERMORE, IT WRITES UPON THE HEARTS OF THEIR SURVIVORS: YOUR LOSS MATTERS TO US: HOW MUCH:

[SOUNDS OF A FIRING SQUAD —]

However, if I was going to be sensitive to anyone's squeamies it would be one of the victim's children: Cahill's daughter, Keely, has publicly opposed live streaming Hasan's execution feeling that it would shift attention from the victims to the murderer. I guess she noticed what happened in the Clancy trial—totally about the murderer, the children are forgotten. Only, actually, I think in both cases, the death penalty for these killers sends a clear message and I can tell you that I would not be thinking of Hasan, but of the fourteen he killed in cold blood.

Hold on through the break; I'll be right back!

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere's lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march—an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

Just about every problem in the world today is being instigated by Islam—the most pernicious religion ever devised. The only thing we can credit Islam with is the creation of the U.S. Marines.

The Barbary Pirates, faithful followers of Muhammad, provoked the new nation until she got her “sea legs” (formed a Navy) and Thomas Jefferson read the Quran, saw what an evil force this was in the world, and formed the Marines specifically to deal with the threat of Muslim Piracy.

I've got some bonus features for you and I hope you'll make use of them. I prepared a report documenting the global menace of militant Islamists world wide, right now!² I created another report documenting the truth about the Palestinian question: who really is Palestine?³

Every troublesome hot spot in the world today is connected to militant Islam:

Middle East: Iran (IRGC) and the Strait of Hormuz, Gaza (Hamas), Lebanon (Hezbollah), Iraq, Syria and Jordan, Turkey and Saudi Arabia (ISIS linked embedded threats-yeah, that's still a thing), Yemen and the Red Sea (Houthis—attacking Saudi Arabia right now), of course the constant menace against Israel.

Africa: Mali, A Muslim Terrorist support group called JNIM; and Islamic State Sahel (ISS)—get the report, your eyes will spin—it's unreal, the entire world is being troubled by these evil people—Niger, Nigeria, Cameroon, Togo, Somalia, Kenya, Ethiopia, Mosambique, Congo, Uganda, Libya, Algeria, Tunisia.

South and Central Asia: Afghanistan where the Taliban, ISIS-K, al-Qaeda networks continue their operations; Pakistan, India, Bangladesh, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Kyrgyzstan — I'm not kidding. Militant Islamists are agitating trouble and posing serious threat to all of these countries.

Southeast Asia: the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia, and Thailand.

Then we come to the Western powers: France is under siege by militant Muslim youth, the UK, Spain, Germany, but did you know the same trouble plagues Belgium, Austria, Sweden, Denmark, in the news lately, Netherlands, Switzerland, the Western Balkans, and Russia,

Look what's going on in America: New York and New Jersey, Boston, San Bernadino a while back attacked by ISIS aligned thugs;

Orlando, FL, Pensacola, FL, New Orleans, and famously, Dearborn, MI and Minneapolis; Canada too.

It doesn't stop there: Morocco, Mauritania, Senegal, Ivory Coast, Tanzania, Rwanda, Sri Lanka, China is having trouble with these people, Trinidad, Australia, and New Zealand.

ISIS, Al-Qaeda, Taliban, Hamas, Hezbollah, JNIM — the report includes documentation. Virtually every threat upon every nation I named has one common denominator: the religion of Islam.

Thomas Jefferson was right! He read their book and knew if unchecked, these people will terrorize the world. If you want to take a look at the full report, go to brainmassage.net and send a message telling me you want the Islam report.

What has militant Islam done for Muslims? To illustrate, take a look at the Palestine question. Have the so-called Palestinians ever produced a thriving economy for the Muslim people they represent?

The word Palestinian is derived from Latin, Palaestina, which comes from the Ancient Greek Palaistinē. The word is originally taken from the Hebrew word Pelesheth, and means, “Land of the Philistines.” Pelesheth was used to identify the land of Canaan.

Today, the word is used to identify those who claim Palestine as their rightful homeland. The geography includes Middle East territories on the eastern coast of the Mediterranean Sea, specifically, from the River Jordan, west to the Mediterranean Sea. In biblical times, this was called the Land of Canaan promised by God to Israel, who took possession of the land during Joshua's campaigns.⁴ Genesis 15 defines the Land Promised to Abraham as from West of the Euphrates to the Mediterranean Sea.

But after the Hagar plan produced Ishmael, the progenitor of the Arab people (see Genesis 16), God reduced the promised land to Canaan, the land west of the Jordan. This settled the area between the Euphrates and the Jordan to Ishmael (see Genesis 17).

When Israel came into disfavor with God, she was driven from her land. She was divided into Israel and Judah. Israel was banished and scattered by Assyria, but Judah hung in there a while but was finally corrupted so God moved her under the Chaldeans (Babylon-Jeremiah 25:11).

At the end of the Babylonian captivity, God moved the Persian king Cyrus to declare the first return of Israel into her land (Daniel 9:2; Ezra 1:1), but only a small remnant responded. Judah continued to be under the rule of Gentile Empires throughout the Persian Empire (Centered in modern Iran), followed by Greece, and then by Rome.

However, at no time did God withdrew His promise that the land would be returned to Israel, and that she would be gathered again into her land.⁵ (You've got to get my notes and look at this—the ⁴ Genesis 13:14-15 and 15:18-21 which defines the Promised Land as including the geography West of the Euphrates to the Mediterranean Sea. After the Hagar plan produced Ishmael, the progenitor of the Arabs (Genesis 16), God reduced the promised land to Canaan, the land west of the Jordan. This settled the area between the Euphrates and the Jordan to Ishmael (Genesis 17:7-8).

⁵ Leviticus 26:40-45; Deuteronomy 30:1-5; anticipating the removal in Isaiah 11:11-12; 14:1-2; 27:12-13; 43:5-7; 49:8-22; and during the fulfillment: Jeremiah 23:3-8; 30:3; 32:8-14; 32:37-44; Ezekiel 11:16-20; 20:33-44; 28:25-26; 34:11-16; 36:22-28; 37:1-28; 39:25-29; and then during the extended exile: Hosea 1:10-11; 3:4-5; Amos 9:14-5; Obadiah 17-21; Zephaniah 3:19-20; Zechariah 8:7-8; 10:6-12). Christ offered the restoration to the Jews in His first coming (Luke 19:42), which she rejected, thus extending the times of the Gentiles until His Second Coming (see Acts 1:5-8; Luke 21:5-28, see especially verse 5, and 20-22) until Christ returns, when they finally receive Him as their Messiah and are finally fully restored (See Revelation 7:1-8; with Revelation 1:7 and Zechariah 12:9-10; with Zechariah 14:4). The promise has never been withdrawn.

Bible is literally full of specific promises by God to restore the Jewish people to the land God promised to Abraham.

Meanwhile, the Arabs, by the way, also descendants from Abraham, intermingled with the Gentiles, and later conquered Palestine in AD 634, and it was included in the Ottoman Empire from 1516 – 1918. In 1920, the territory was brought under the governance of Britain, and officially called Palestine. Virtually uninhabited, after WWII, Britain, with America's support, ceded to Israel their homeland, called Israel, within the land of Palestine.

This was partly in response to the atrocities of the Holocaust, and the general feeling that Israel must have her own land and the right of self-defense. But the fact is, this also fulfilled specific prophecies in Scripture where God promised He would return the children of Abraham's seed to their promised land. Ishmael received the lion's share, from Euphrates to Jordan, but God reserved the land from Jordan to the Sea for the seed of Abraham through Isaac and Jacob.

Currently, Arab descendants, particularly those of the Islamic faith, believe the land is theirs, and that Israel is a usurper, occupying the land illegally, or at least unrighteously.

Although there is no record of any Arab community organized under the name Palestinian within the area given to Israel for a home, some Arab tribes claim they were driven from their "homeland," when the Jews moved into the land and formed the nation called Israel. These sons of Ishmael reject the God of Abraham's promise of Canaan, or "Palestine" to Israel, while claiming to worship Him under the name Allah, the Arabic equivalent to the word God. The current issue driving the conflict is an old hatred for the Jewish people and an unjustifiable claim that the Jews displaced them from "their" land.

Well, I've prepared a report to compare "Palestinian" success, measured by whether they have provided economic stability for the Muslim Palestinians.

I found that there is evidence of only limited and heavily subsidized prosperity when under leadership opposed to Israel. I found that as hostilities toward Israel become more open, and aggressive, the economic stability of the “Palestinians” suffers greatly.

Here is a summary of my report, and I’ll have to close the show today. Get these reports: go to brainmassage.net and request the two reports on the menace of Islam in the world today.

1. In Chile, Palestinian refugees have done quite well. They have settled into Chile and work well within its government. This demonstrates business capacity but does not constitute a Palestinian-governed national economy. [1][2]

2. The Palestinian Authority (PA)-administered West Bank experienced substantial economic expansion in 2009–2011. The World Bank noted that this growth depended heavily on external aid and lacked a self-sustaining private-sector base. [3]

3. Under Hamas control in Gaza from 2007 through 2022, real GDP growth averaged an abysmal 0.4% annually, while GDP per person fell 2.5% annually. [4]

4. The evidence supports some examples of relatively prosperous Palestinian individuals, households, enterprises, and some communities under Palestinian leadership who might be politically opposed to Israeli policies but don’t go Jihad; but there are no examples of Palestinian prosperity when governed by leadership openly hostile to Israel, and committed to its destruction as a Nation State. Specifically, there are no examples of a sustained, broadly prosperous and economically independent Palestinian-governed Muslims under Hamas or the Palestinian Authority. [3][4][5]

5. Continuing armed conflict with Israel—including attacks by Palestinian militant organizations, Israeli military responses, restrictions, and repeated destruction—has imposed major costs on investment, trade, employment, and infrastructure. These mechanisms belong in any explanation of constrained Palestinian economic development. The only reason they fail is that they are consumed with hatred for Israel.

Blaming Israel, claiming Israel's response to the constant threats and attacks are only relevant in as much as these actions of self-defense inflict harm experienced by everyone connected to radicalized Islam because of their hatred for Israel. The attacks by these Palestinians against Israel precipitate every action that produces the results of economic oppression experienced by "Palestinians." [4][7][9][10]

6. The conclusion is obvious: Palestinians do better when operating under the authority of a benign non-radicalized government, especially one that is not pursuing any terrorist actions justified by a Fatwa, or Intifada, which is aimed at the eradication of Israel as a Nation. (Genesis 12:1-4 must apply to all of Abraham's seed, including that descending from Ishmael.)

Friend, this is exactly what GOD said would happen: any nation that curses Abraham's seed through Isaac will be cursed, and those that bless his descendants through Isaac will be blessed.
