ISLAMI'S WAR, AMERICA'S WAR, GOD'S WAR — JESUS SAID THERE WOULD BE WARS! THE POWER OF PROPAGANDA ON THE SIMPLE!

Original Air Date: 11.14.26

Segment.01 Hello. I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor of the Lighthouse Baptist Church in Santa Maria, CA, and your brain masseur. Get ready for your brain massage.

Islami's war, America's war, or GOD'S WAR!

Propaganda has power over weak minds susceptible to lies - the Bible refers to them as the "simple minded." God describes them as gullible: "The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going" (Proverbs 14:15).

The help needed is instruction in the Light of Truth: "The entrance of thy words giveth light; it giveth understanding unto the simple" (Psalms 119:130). Along with that, the "scorners" who bully the "simple" into accepting propositions they are not fully comfortable with must be publicly rebuffed: "When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise" (Proverbs 21:11a), and then, "when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge." Again, when the scorner is "smitten," the simple notice and are warned: "Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware," while reproving those with understanding increases their knowledge: "and reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge" (Proverbs 19:25).

However, those who "love simplicity" are beyond the reach of reasoned truth. They move proudly and blindly into divine judgment: "A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished" (Proverbs 22:3).

There is no mind more intolerant to truth than the simple mind inflamed with "pride of learning," who "know" what isn't so; "ever learning" but never come to the knowledge of the truth (2 Timothy 3:7), who revel in ignorant assumptions, and hate truth. These cannot see the obvious truth—what we call common sense is uncommon with them. Bongino calls them stupid smart people.

The righteous are to blame for the loss of the simple vote. They refuse to "smite the scorner" or to deliver the reproof of the Spirit upon the conscience of this world that lieth in wickedness (John 16:7-13; John 5:19). And so it continues to lie there, in their lies.

The Spirt of Jesus Christ was sent into the world to reprove it of sin, and He was put into the believer for this purpose, that He would move through them into the world with His "reproofs" of instruction (Romans 8:9; John 16:7-12; 7:38-39).

So, here's the truth:

Our war with Iran: is it Israel's war, or is it America's war? Are we acting as Israel's proxy in this war? Has Trump reneged on his promise to put America first?

© Jerry W. Scheidbach (All rights reserved.)

Discerning the truth through a heavy fog of propaganda can seem impossible; but it's actually very easy. Just pay attention to what Iran has been saying for about fifty years: "Death to America," the "Big Satan," without regard for their "Death to Israel," the "little Satan" chants, as lately as November 4, of this year, marking the 47th anniversary of the day Islamist Iran took over the U.S. Embassy taking 52 hostages.[1] Perhaps they were especially jubilant having so great an Islamist victory in the U.S. elections on November 3. Mamdani, Sayed, Illhan, Tlaib, among others, were no doubt very glad—and thanked Allah for their victory. Maybe the Muslims will add November 3rd to their anniversary of the beginning of the Islamist rise to power over the West, when they have finally succeeded to conquer the embassy of the American People, the U.S. Elections. That would be a fitting national holiday in Iran, and the Muslim representatives, or states, like Minnesota, and Michigan can organize a "free Palestine" event: with early voting and control of the machines, they don't need to worry about voting on November 3, so they can be in the streets celebrating their final victory over the Western powers. I dare say, November 3 will be celebrated all over the Muslim dominated world—they finally defeated the Great Satan; after that, the little one will be no problem.

They are in for a surprise: biblical prophecy is not on their side. Lord willing, I'll speak to that Saturday night for BrainMassage® LIVE and follow up with this on Sunday night.

But, I stray! It's actually not hard at all to know the answer to the question of whether America has a dog in this fight—Iraniacs have been chanting Death to America for decades.

Then, you can look at what they DO! They've been killing Americans for decades. They launch missiles into Israel regularly; it's routine. But that does not matter to us; it's fine; that's Israel's concern. Okay! But you are a simpleton indeed if you think they would not lob missiles against America if they had one that could reach us—look, I'm telling you, the only reason they have not attempted another 9-11 but are willing to fire missiles into the bedroom communities of Israel is they are smart enough to know two things: America is a better ally than enemy. What? Oh yeah, the only reason Israel has not gone into Iran and cleaned out that hate infested regime is America has not allowed it. America, under the likes of Obama and Biden, has financed Iran's military development and held the leash on Israel's response, reigning Israel in all along the way. Until Trump, that is.

Hey, simpleton, you can't see this? Really? Do you want to smack that smirk off the face of the clever propagandist scorner: LISTEN and LOOK.

They are still chanting death to America, and training their women and children to lead a ground assault on American cities.

Here is a video of the IRGC in Tehran putting their women, dressed in full Hijab, a very inconvenient uniform for war fighting, but, that's the dedication of Islam to their oppressive dominion over women, even those who are recruited into military training. Their boot camp includes training in the use of the AK 47, mortar launchers, even repelling down walls. See it here.[2]

This is Iran's version of Women's Rights—of course, their husbands will beat them and their government will kill them if they appear in public without their Hijab, or if they show their hair, but they'll put them on the battle field with AKs and Mortar launchers to Kill the Infidel. Seriously, they are training their women for a ground assault against their enemies.

Here's another documented account of what the Islamists of Iran envision for the future of their little girls: learning to strip an AK and reassemble it.[3] [4] [5]

They are building their armies involving women and children, and we already know their penchant for sending children wrapped in explosives to kill the infidels. I understand the plan is to use these special "crack" troops for a ground assault on the Great Satan —the leader of the Western Powers.

Sun Tzu popularized the war maxim: Know your enemy.[6] The modern day "Barbary Pirates" know Americans and Israeli soldiers will hesitate to shoot a woman or a child. They also know every bullet used to kill one of their women or children is one less available to shoot a "real soldier." It's perfect psychological warfare, and besides, the gals and kids will go to see Allah, and will be remembered as heroes here, so, it's okay!

We know Iran has operated military training camps on U.S. soil.[7] We know they are engaging in war against the U.S., training their women and children as a special ground assault force; I mean, just OPEN YOUR SIMPLE EARS AND HEAR, AND YOUR SIMPLE EYES AND SEE — it's not at all hard to know that Trump is not shilling for the Israelis, he is defending AMERICA FIRST.

These people are not hesitant to put their women and children on the front lines — They sure wont hesitate to kill your women and children while you watch.[8] [9] [10]

But the reason Americans, some at least, get lost in the propaganda fog is because they don't see what's CLEAR. They ignore what is EVIDENT!

The Islamists hate Western culture, and that's their right. But it's not their right to kill people that disagree with them. They can believe Allah has destined them to rule the world—that's their right! But killing everyone who gets in their way is not. Because they have told us that they intend to kill the infidel, and named America as their enemy, and have attacked us on multiple occasions, and promise to destroy us, only a lover of simplicity can look at the documentation, indisputable, fact based evidence and not know that the Islamic regime of Iran will attempt to Islam the world to their power if they ever get a nuclear bomb.

We KNOW they were enriching uranium to near nuclear levels, we know they were pursuing a nuclear bomb; the only people who don't know that, who are hesitant, who think, well, maybe we deserve it, are simple minded fools that love simplicity so much, because they hate the truth so much, they refuse to hear and see the truth.

This brings us to our answer to the first question regarding the current war with Iran: Our engagement with Iran is in America's best interests. The fact that it is also in the interests of Israel, the rest of the Arabian countries, and the rest of the world is not germane, it is not relevant to the question. This is OUR WAR and as a nation, WE NEED TO OWN IT.

The Islami threat is real—these people are inspired by their trusted spiritual leaders to believe they are destined to rule the world and directed by an ideology that instructs them that this will be accomplished by converting or, that failing, killing the infidel.

Mohammad took his lessons from the Catholics of the Dark Ages—who believe their version of Christianity will rule the world, and used a similar approach: move into a community swarming it's political and social institutions, and when they gained political power, they pressed all to confess allegiance to Christ and His visible head, the Pope, called the Vicar (representative) of Christ, or die.

If you were content to live under their rule, you would be tolerated—so long as you did not publicly oppose their rule, or read the Bible, or try to have it translated—you, know stuff like that could put you on the "rack," where you would be offered an opportunity to recant before your limbs were ripped from your body — nice people.

That's a side of Catholic history no one likes to remember, but it's true; and while they take a different public approach now.

Ever hear of Guy Fawkes Day, in England? That's okay, most Brits don't remember it either; at least it's not celebrated as the Providential deliverance of England from a 9-11 like event back in 1605, from a Catholic plan to reestablish Catholic political control of England, called the Gunpowder Plot.[11] The plan was to blow up the English Parliament along with King James I. (Six years later, the king published the first printing of the King James Version of the Bible.)

The Brits discovered and stopped the terrorist attack, and they used to celebrate this by burning effigies of Guy Fawkes, the Catholic ring leader of the plot, and often they included another effigy of the Pope. Now it's all barbecue and fireworks. They forgot what religious zealots will do to advance their "kingdom agenda" — their vision for "ruling the world" in the name of their religion.

But now the Catholics want to make peace with Islam, now, more than ever.

Hold on through the break; missiles of brilliant insight heading toward your head, but don't duck — let them "blow your mind." I'll be right back!

Segment.02 Hello. Welcome back! I'm Dr. Jerry Scheidbach, pastor at the Lighthouse, your brain masseur, and Paul Revere's lantern lighter, lighting the lamps in the church belfry arch, signaling the enemy is on the march—an enemy that would steal from us our liberty.

When Trump won the first time, I warned that any time God begins to create a movement, the Devil tries to join. One of my favorite of many biblical examples available is the sorceress that tried to join Paul's ministry:."A certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying: The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation" (Acts 16:16-17). Paul rejected her endorsement (read Acts 16:18); he rebuked the devil that possessed her and she lost her special powers. My point is that the devil in that woman tried to join up with Paul's ministry. There are many examples of this: if you think there are not some devils out there saying the MAGA movement is of GOD, and will show us the way of salvation — well, at least political salvation.

Every Pope since Pope Paul.(1965), has reached out to Islamic leaders in an ecumenical effort to unite with Islam.[12] [13] [14] — Since then, it's been standing policy of the Roman Catholic so-called "Holy See" to make peace with Islam—more than six decades. But none of them has been more aggressive in this pursuit, at least publicly, as was Pope Francis. Look at his record of fraternity, conciliation, and compromise with the Muslims.[15] [16]

[17] I understand Francis' position was premised much on the teaching of his successor: Leo XIV, who has said every pagan religion, including Islam, is merely another of many paths to GOD. Does JD believe this?

JD is a Catholic, and, for the record, so are Bongino, I think Vince too, not sure about that, Rubio, the former Press Secretary, Karoline Leavit, Robert Kennedy, Tom Homan, John Ratcliff, these, with JD, are high ranking members of Trump's administration, among others who are not as well known. This is an impressive representation of the Catholic Church in the current administration.[18] [19] [20] Not including the prominence of Catholics in the Supreme Court.

I love the work these men are doing; but I've expressed, on more than one occasion, my concern about the ideological orientation of the "Christianity" represented.

JD is described as a "zealous, albeit comparatively recent, convert to Roman Catholicism."[21] He was among the last visitors the Pope received the day before he died.[22] The meeting lasted about ten minutes, more or less. Francis was a member of the Jesuits, the first Jesuit to hold the office. He was the most aggressive in his efforts to draw Islam into the Vatican orbit. I think I mentioned that. The "Society of Jesus" (Jesuits) is an order with a reputation for political intrigue and interference in governments—on a mission to advance Catholic political power throughout the world. JD also met Cardinal Pietro Parolin (a Vatican Diplomat, representing the Pope, and the Vatican to other countries), the Vatican's equivalent to our office of the Secretary of State. Parolin studied at a university administered by the Jesuit Order, though he never joined. JD also met with Archbishop Paul Gallagher, the Vatican's foreign minister. He came under the influence of the Jesuits in a Society of Jesus in Liverpool, and in the Jesuit-run Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome."[23]

Friend, brace yourself, but this is NOT the Christianity of our FOUNDING. The American version of the Catholic Church is compatible with our Constitution and values, including our fierce repudiation of the false doctrine called the Divine Right of Kings—something the Democrats secretly believe, by the way, only it's a bit more like Islam—Democrats believe that they have the divine right to rule.

But the Catholic Papacy has a conundrum. In the past, Popes exercised their infallibility acting ex-cathedra (from the Seat - that is, the Seat of Peter) as the human representative of the Head of the Church, the Vicar of Christ, to declare themselves over earthly governors and governments. But after the Reformation gave them a firm spanking, followed by the rise of America, successive Popes have exercised their infallibility as Vicar of Christ to repudiate this notion. The same is true concerning the false doctrine of the Divine Right of Kings. While most Protestants will object to the Vicar of Christ bit, many maintain affinity with elements of the Divine Right of Kings heresy. But even that doctrine has been greatly refined by successive statements of equally infallible Popes. The distinction that must be maintained is between God's ordaining of the powers and the peoples choice of the persons. To say any person holding the power, no matter how vile, was ordained by God to hold it is an error (Hosea 8:4). This is a dangerous doctrine Tyrants have used to fortify their authority —the very sort of Tyrants we shook off during our War for Independence.

Although King George III (1738-1820) was a declared Protestant, "Lord Protector of the Church of England," it appears this was a profession of political convenience: the laws of England then required it of the king.

I say King George's professed fidelity to protect England from the intrusion of Papal influence and control was a politically convenient position because he, and the Church of England, held firmly to the false doctrine called the Divine Right of Kings, a hold over from before the Protestant Reformation.

England, and, therefore, the Colonists, had laws prohibiting Catholics from holding political office. But George began to demonstrate political sympathies toward the Catholic Church. For example, the Quebec Act of 1774 opened the door for Catholics to hold political office there. This caused considerable disquiet among the Protestants who remembered Cromwell's wars to break England free from Papal tyranny.

American colonists were particularly concerned about the King's Quebec Act. The first Continental Congress of the Colonies passed what they titled a "Declaration and Resolves of the First Continental Congress," October 14, 1774. Resolution 11, specifically addressed the Quebec Act.[24] The Framers alluded to this a year and nine months later, in July of 1776, in the Declaration of Independence — it was a matter of serious concern to our Founders, and disturbed the sentiments of Protestant and Baptist Christians, which comprised something like 98% of the population at that time. The memory of Catholic oppression was not so faded as it is now.

Okay, so, JD is a Catholic, and the present Catholic Pope is continuing a policy of outreach to the Muslim clerics through conciliation and compromise for longer than Iran has been chanting "Death to America.". The Catholic Church has been very patient — their effort to reason with the unreasonable and wicked rulers of Islam has been an unending dialogue with Imams since 1965. The ONLY movement has been on the side of the Catholics toward Islam - there has been Zero concessions from Islam. JD has the same patience with the IRGC: he wants to continue pursuing a deal, when there has been ZERO concessions from them.

Now he is openly talking against Trump's expressed sentiments about these rogues: Trump has said, bluntly, "we don't need a 'deal' with Iran." JD is pushing Trump to accept the lie that the American people have turned on him over the Iran war. I don't believe the "propaganda." If you missed it, listen to segment one of today's show. I listen to what the Muslims say and look at what they do, or don't do—that is the only information I need to know who they are and what they are about.

What happened in this latest election was a massive 2020 level steal, and the Senate is in on it—specifically in their refusal to use the power God provided through the people to do what the people declared they wanted done—90% of the American people want election integrity restored.

The knives came out, and to Thune, I hear "E Tu Brute." America is lined up on the 80-20, 90-10 issues like men beating up women in women's sports — the Democrats are okay with that, like the Muslims are okay with beating women. I spoke to this a few episodes ago: Trump is fighting Democrats, RINOS, Communists, and Islamists —but these are different fronts in the SAME WAR.

JD has expressed questions about the justification of the war's political and economic costs.[25] He has pushed the Iran war theory to explain the Mid-Terms—I guess the people decided to give one to IRGC to spite Trump; right, they elected Muslims to political office because they are on their side regarding getting a nuclear weapon—I talked about simple minded people, but among MAGA patriots, there is no way. Just keep watching, this movie isn't over yet—you're going to find out just how corrupt our elections have become — everything the Democrats touch becomes corrupt.

Anyway, Trump has instructed JD to focus on Democrat corruption, something JD has been appointed to oversee.

Trump expressly told JD to stay way from the Iran war. But his statements are out there, and he does not need to say anything more. He has demonstrated a lack of understanding and judgment that, in my opinion, shows that he does not have the capacity for that job; not in this environment. We are at war with Iran and JD want's to talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk — if he cant see that the IRGC are playing him for a fool, he is not fit to be President. Maybe JD is Brutus in this drama. Thune is among the Senatorial conspirators that are joined to derail Trump's agenda.

You know, come to think of it, JD is more like Brutus, particularly signaled out for favor by the Caesar character, in this case the POTUS, where a leading figure of the Senate by personal prestige and office, except for the fact that Brutus was a military commander, the analogy holds up with JD playing the part of Brutus. Look, it's possible JD does not understand what he has done, and I think his assertion that the Mid-Terms were evidence of American support for the IRGC against the Iran war was premature, and ill-advised. On election night Trump said it likely contributed, but Vance said it was the principal reason Republicans lost: Vance said, "The reason we lost is the war," and then added, "The president himself said so last night!" Well, that's not what I heard! Trump said "it was a piece of it." And that's actually very different.

It's apparent that the resistance to get this done in Iran is coming from Vance! I understand Trump's leadership style, you go with the people you put in charge of something, but there comes a point when you have to step in; I believe that's what Trump has done: Hey, Vance, you concentrate on government corruption and fraud, period! We don't need a deal with Iran. Vance has been the principal advocate for extending unending, go nowhere negotiations with Iran. It's interesting, but all the Catholics have been arguing in favor of extending negotiations[26]—only the Protestant in the group, Hegseth, has favored the military option to finish this regime.[27] Bibi wants to finish this!

Looks like we are going Rubio—another Catholic, but not a political Catholic — he made it clear to Leo XIV where he stood on Papal infallibility and Supreme Authority.

Whether Vance is licking his finger and checking the direction of political winds, and thinks maybe Tucker has a point—you know Vance has also made remarks that are being made to look like he is not on the same page as his boss, and it has raised the eyebrows of Christian community, and, perhaps not coincidentally, actually in closer alignment with the Vatican over Israel: "We cannot let our Middle Eastern foreign policy be subservient to the state of Israel."[28] Who ever said it was, other than Tucker and his crowd, and the Pope's repeated thinly veiled rebukes of the President.[29] However, if you listen to the statement in full, JD was supporting President Trump's position and explaining that he is not subordinating America's interests to Israel. (Here is a video of JD's statement included in my footnote.—IBID. 117.6.13)

I look forward to meeting you! See you in church!

I have lit the lamps in the Church belfry arch. Now let me know if you see them.
